

Louise Bourgeois: The Woven Child

Hayward Gallery Secondary Schools Morning

---

Wednesday 4 May 11am-1pm

Hayward Gallery

Southbank Centre

OVERVIEW

A special morning reserved exclusively for secondary schools to meet an exhibition curator and explore the Louise Bourgeois: The Woven Child exhibition at their own pace.

The Hayward Gallery is reserved for the exclusive use of secondary schools this morning, to allow for bubble-safe, socially distanced gallery viewing. The morning begins with a brief introduction to the exhibition from an exhibition curator and schools are then free to explore the gallery.

PURPOSE

- For students to engage directly with the gallery curators, staff, artworks and develop their own interpretations and ideas in response

- For students to develop greater understanding of the job roles at a gallery and arts centre and to experience and contribute to these roles firsthand
- For students to feel comfortable and welcomed in a gallery environment

HOW TO TAKE PART

Sketchbooks with pencils welcome, please no pen or charcoal, etc.

Bookings are staggered slightly to allow for smooth entrance. Please arrive promptly at your booking time and limit your bags to a minimum.

A list of artworks and risk assessment available upon request. Please email schools@southbankcentre.co.uk
